Beginning with Summer 2020, individual UCEAP summer physics programs were given a one-summer only approval by the UC Berkeley Physics department. With the suspension of Summer 2020 UCEAP summer programs, this means that as of now, there are no current or future UCEAP summer programs approved to satisfy the Physics 8A and 8B requirement. We do not know when or if the review or approval of 2021 programs will occur. Any updates to program availability or approval will be posted to our here on this Physics Advising Notes document in the fall.

Because of this, it is our strong recommendation that all students plan to satisfy the physics 8 series at UC Berkeley during the regular academic year or during the summer. You may also discuss satisfying the requirement(s) at another institution, such as a community college, with your departmental and/or pre-health advisers.